

MASTERVOICES: 2019 AUCTION PREVIEW

Break-a-Leg at Carnegie Hall!

Make your Carnegie Hall debut this coming November alongside MasterVoices and several Broadway luminaries with a walk-on role in Gershwin's Let 'Em Eat Cake, a sequel to the hilarious, politically prescient Pulitzer prize-winning musical Of Thee I Sing, performed by MasterVoices to great acclaim in 2017. Invite eight of your favorite groupies to watch from premium seats in America's premier concert hall. On the night of your debut, our professional photographer, Erin Baiano, will capture your moment backstage. Whether for you or for someone you care about, a winning bid secures this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. This package includes:

- A walk-on role with MasterVoices in Let 'Em Eat Cake at historic Carnegie Hall, a stage that's been graced with the batons of Bernstein and Tchaikovsky, the voices of Pavarotti and Judy Garland, and the talents of innumerable others, on November 21, 2019
- Eight premium tickets to the performance
- Professional photo shoot backstage
- The unparalleled experience of standing in the footsteps of legends

CARNEGIE HALL

Superstars come and go, Cher is forever!

We got you, babe! Outbid your friends and get four tickets and special access to the Broadway smash The Cher Show and its author, Rick Elice (Jersey Boys, Peter and the Starcatcher). Before the show, Rick will regale you with fascinating Broadway tidbits over dinner at the Russian Samovar Restaurant, a historic celebrity haunt. After the show, enjoy a backstage visit and a chance to meet the cast. Fun commemorative merchandise will keep the memories alive long after this fab night ends. Can you dig it? Raise your paddles to win this groovy evening. Includes:

- Four prime tickets to The Cher Show
- Dinner for four (plus Rick) at Russian Samovar before the show
- Backstage visit after the show
- Commemorative merchandise

Side By Side with Ted Sperling and Christopher Fitzgerald

Ted Sperling, our very own Artistic Director, will perform "Side by Side" with Broadway and MasterVoices favorite Christopher Fitzgerald in your home or club. Fitzgerald is adored for his performances on the Great White Way (Wicked, Waitress, and Young Frankenstein) and with us (Babes in Toyland, The Mikado, and Knickerbocker Holiday). This dynamic duo will deliver a rip-roaring evening you and your guests will not soon forget!

Mark Rothko: One-of-a-Kind Art for Ten

Lori Cohen and Christopher Rothko (son of Mark Rothko and MasterVoices singer) will host up to ten people for cocktails and hors d'oeuvres in their beautifully renovated New York City townhouse and give a personal tour of their Rothko works, some of which have never been displayed publicly. In addition, you will be privately serenaded by our Artistic Director, Ted Sperling, during this singular event. Collect your connoisseur cohort and indulge in this highly exclusive viewing. Uniquely yours for the winning bid, it's an art lover's dream.

No dealers, please.
